

That the FCC should not implement any proposal that would lessen Indiana's Telephone Privacy law protections. State laws that are more stringent than Federal law should be left alone and not preempted.

Indiana's Telephone Privacy law has made life at home possible without having to turn off the telephone. Solicitation calls used to occur two to three times an evening, now we receive less than two a month. What a great feeling. Please do not change this situation

Thank you

Don McMorris